The John Marshall School of Law is operated not for profit and is designed to meet the requirements of students who seek a legal education by attending evening classes.

The school is a member of the League of Ohio Law Schools, and is approved by the Veterans Administration to give instruction under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

The members of the faculty are either judges or seasoned lawyers who have had extended teaching experience.

The Case Method of Instruction in vogue in most day schools has been adapted so as to serve the best interests of serious-minded students.

An excellent law library is maintained for use of students at all times.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

The school is open to both men and women of good moral character.

Regular Students. Applicants for admission as Regular Students, candidates for a degree, must present credentials showing satisfactory completion of at least two years study (60 credit hours) at an approved college, in compliance with the rules of the Supreme Court of Ohio. Regular Students must also register with The Supreme Court when they begin the study of law.

Advanced Standing. Students in good standing from law schools, approved by the American Bar Association or the League of Ohio Law Schools, may be admitted to advance standing upon producing credentials showing that they have satisfactorily pursued a course of legal study equivalent to that required in this school for the period preceding the date when such students are admitted, and not otherwise. At least one full year of work will be required in residence at The John Marshall School of Law to entitle any such student to a degree. No credit will be given for instruction received by private tuition or by correspondence.

Special Students. A limited number of applicants may be admitted as Special students upon presenting satisfactory evidence of sufficient education to enable them to pursue legal study to their advantage. Such students will be subject to the same rules and regulations as regular students and to the same charges. A Special student who completes the full course will be entitled to a Certificate of Law Study. The Bachelor of Laws degree will be conferred only on those Special students who display unusual scholastic ability.

Early registration is advisable, and all students are required to register in person. The office is open for consultation and registration during the summer months from Noon to 5:30 P.M., and beginning August 20th from 11:00 A.M. to 6:00 P.M., or later by appointment.

Correspondence, or preferably a personal interview with the Dean, prior to registration, is invited. Telephone MAin 4372.

ATTENDANCE, EXAMINATIONS, GRADES, AND DISMISSAL OF STUDENTS

Students are required to attend classes with substantial regularity. Attendance upon less than 80% of the total sessions of any course will be deemed cause for withholding credit for that course, except by special permission of the instructor in charge.

Written examinations in all subjects are conducted at the close of each course.

Although 65% is the passing grade, a student must attain an average of 70% in all subjects taken during the year to remain in good standing. A grade of 60-64 is a condition and must be removed by further study and re-examination the following year or it will be treated as a failure. A grade below 60 is a failure, and the course must be repeated for credit.

Each student must maintain a yearly average of 70%. Any student who fails to attain this average will be automatically dropped from the rolls, and will not be reinstated except by special action of the faculty.

DEGREES AND HONORS

Candidates of good character who shall have pursued the full four years' course, complied with the rules and requirements of the school and passed the examinations to the satisfaction of the Faculty and the Board of Trustees shall be entitled to receive the degree of Bachelor of Laws.

HONOR DEGREES. A regular student who, on the basis of 100, shall have received an average grade throughout the course of 92 will be granted a degree summa cum laude; a student who shall have received an average grade throughout the course of 87½ will be granted a degree magna cum laude; a student who shall have received an average grade throughout the course of 85 will be granted a degree cum laude.
