MINORITY CONCERNS COMMITTEE - MENTOR PROGRAM

by Gregory F. Clifford '81

Minority law students often experience the feeling of isolation and discouragement. The attrition rate for minority students is higher than that of non-minorities and the pressure to pass the bar exam increases for them as passage rates get lower and lower every year.

The struggle to get into and then survive law school can be overwhelming for many minority students who believe that they are alone in their experiences.

This is why the Minority Concerns Committee of the Cleveland-Marshall Law Alumni Association has assumed the task of implementing a Minority Mentor Program. We hope to guide currently enrolled law students through the difficulties they will encounter during their law school years.

The Law Alumni Minority Mentor Program is designed to provide minority law students with an easy way to meet with, observe, and obtain advice, ideas, suggestions or general information from law school graduates. Any minority law student at Cleveland-Marshall College of Law, whether first year, third year, full-time or part-time can utilize the program.

The goals of the program are:

(1) to develop an organized program linking attorneys and minority law students to assist the students in their transition into legal education and out into the profession;

(2) to provide additional support, advice and guidance to minority law students to reduce their feelings of isolation and discouragement;

(3) to reduce the attrition rate, increase bar passage rate, and develop employment opportunities for minority law students; and

(4) to provide the foundation for many new and rewarding relationships.

The Mentors will generously volunteer their time and knowledge to assist law students. The Mentees will be minority students enrolled at Cleveland-Marshall who find themselves in need of some advice, guidance or counselling relative to law school, the Ohio Bar Examination, and/or the practice of law.

Potential Mentors and Mentees will complete a registration form of pertinent background information. Based upon the data contained in the registration form, Mentors and students will be matched with the aim of addressing the interests and needs of the students.

The program brought the Mentors

OUR PART-TIME PROGRAM

by Steven R. Smith

The part-time program has been a traditional strength of Cleveland-Marshall. The law school has taken a justifiable pride in the opportunities available through the evening division and in the quality of the education offered in that division. Currently about 40% of our students are enrolled in the evening division. The admissions qualifications for day and evening divisions are identical, and both divisions have the same academic requirements for graduation. The full-time faculty teach the majority of both full and part-time division classes. Both day and evening students also have the benefit of several fine practitioners and judges who serve as adjunct faculty.

The quality of Cleveland-Marshall's part-time division has been recognized by others. The deans of three law schools were invited by the ABA to help plan a program to review part-time legal education and consider ways of improving it. As the Dean of Cleveland-Marshall, I was selected to be on the steering committee for this program. (The committee is chaired by Professor Charles who wrote the seminal work on part-time legal education some 25 years ago.) The committee has identified a number of issues to be considered, such as how to make available clinical opportunities and co-curricular activities (e.g., law review), how to provide adequate services to students (e.g., placement services), and how to deal with the prejudice that a few law firms still have against graduates from part-time programs. We hope that the conference, which will be held this October in Sacramento, California, will help all of the law schools with part-time programs deal with the problems they face and to take advantage of the special maturity and experience that part-time students generally bring to the study of law.

The graduates of Cleveland-Marshall can take pride not only in the quality of the school's part-time program, but also that it is viewed as a leader in efforts to continue to improve part-time programs. I would welcome any suggestions from alumni about what strengths in our part-time program might be identified for other law schools and what we might continue to do to improve our program.

EDITOR'S NOTE

In addition to our regular columns, this edition is for introductions. We wanted to take the time to introduce you to the Alumni Association and its Trustees, our new Mentor Program, and our Life Members.

You'll find a picture and short biography of our officers on the next page. We have also included pictures and bios of all committee chairs just after their columns.

No, we won't do this every edition. We just wanted you to meet those individuals who are very active Alumni and would like to hear from you! So, drop a line, and let us know what you think. Thanks!

HIRE A CLEVELAND-MARSHALL LAW STUDENT

by Howard D. Mishkind '80

For a moment, reflect back upon your days as a law student. It certainly would have been nice to know that first consideration would be given to you for employment by virtue of the fact that you were enrolled at Cleveland-Marshall, rather than Case Western Reserve University or another law school.

Obviously, each of us must hire law clerks based upon their talent, drive and ability. All things being equal, we owe it to ourselves and to the students to let them know that an education at Cleveland-Marshall does make a difference!

Let us know your employment needs. Perhaps you need a student to do research on a single case or project. Possibly, you are looking for a law student to work on a part-time basis. Then again, your needs may require a full-time law clerk. For an immediate employment need, please contact the Cleveland-Marshall Placement Office at 687-2540.

The Alumni Association has established the Professional Opportunities Committee which will be working in conjunction with the placement office. For further information on that committee see the article on page 5.

We encourage you to join our efforts, for we believe that by hiring Cleveland-Marshall students, you are getting the best quality available.
CONGRATULATIONS AND BEST WISHES TO OUR NEW OFFICERS!

RICHARD S. KOBLENTZ '75, President of the Alumni Association. Rich has served as a trustee of the CMLAA since 1985. He is currently 2nd V.P. of the CCBA, as well as former chairman of its Grievance Committee. He is also former chairman of the Cuyahoga County Board of Mental Retardation and Developmental Disabilities, as well as the Co-Chair of Friends of the Mentally Retarded. Rich is a member of the Executive Committee of the Cleveland Baseball Federation, where he has served as a trustee and counsel since 1985, as well as a member of the Campaign Cabinet of the Jewish Community Federation. He has been a speaker on Legal Ethics at various CLE seminars throughout the Cleveland area. In his spare time, Rich enjoys racquetball, swimming and golf.

HOWARD D. MISHKIND '80 is the President-Elect of the CMLAA. His private practice consists of plaintiff's litigation, personal injury, medical negligence, product liability, and domestic relations. Howard is a member of the Cleveland, Cuyahoga and Ohio State Bar Associations, as well as the Cleveland and Ohio Associations of Trial Lawyers. He is an avid runner and enjoys spending time with his wife, Jane, and their daughter Beth.

LAURIE F. STARR '85 is serving as the Vice President of the CMLAA. Laurie is practicing employment discrimination and medical malpractice with Gaines & Sterns. Currently she is the Treasurer of the Cuyahoga County Bar Association, Treasurer of the Cleveland Academy of Trial Attorneys, as well as the editor of its newsletter. Laurie is a member of the Cleveland, Ohio and American Bar Associations, the American Associations of Nurse Attorneys, the Plaintiff Employment Lawyers Association and the American Arbitration Association. She enjoys cooking and golf.

SHERYL KING BENFORD '79 has been a Trustee of the CMLAA since 1981 and presently serves as its Secretary. She was appointed chair of the Minority Concerns Committee in 1989, a committee which interacts with the College of Law and the legal community on a monthly basis, and is now co-chair of that committee. Sheryl is a former Assistant Dean of Cleveland-Marshall and was a teacher and administrator in the East Cleveland Public Schools. She is the Assistant Director of Law with the City of Cleveland, handling litigation, civil rights, labor and municipal law matters. She is the mother of two and enjoys jogging, travel, and mystery novels.

IRV HELLER '57 is the Treasurer of CMLAA. He is currently a Client Service Executive specializing in audit and tax for Barnes, Wendling, Cook & O'Connor, Inc. In addition, he is active in the United Jewish Appeal, serves on the Retirement Fund Committee for the Jewish Community Federation, and is a member of the Ohio Society of Certified Public Accountants and the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. In his spare time, Irv enjoys tennis and traveling and is an exceptional trivia buff.

GERALD R. WALTON '80 is the immediate Past President of the CMLAA and presently chairs the Past President's Committee. Jerry served as president of the Student Bar Association while attending C-M and has been active on the Board of Trustees since then. He is the Social Chairman of the Cuyahoga County Bar Association, Trustee of the Cleveland-Marshall Education Foundation, member of the Delta Theta Phi Law Fraternity, and the local and Ohio Bar Associations. Jerry is a litigator in personal injury, corporate & domestic relations matters in both Cuyahoga and Geauga Counties. Jerry enjoys swimming, boating, tennis, and spending time with his wife, Elizabeth and their two daughters.
Welcome back to another series of CLE programs co-sponsored by the Cleveland-Marshall College of Law and the Alumni Association! You may have noticed a change in our name: We are no longer CSU-CLE, but CMLAA-CLE (Cleveland-Marshall Law Alumni Association - CLE). Although our title may have changed, our high quality - low cost programs have not.

Professor James T. Flaherty has planned and prepared an interesting mix of seminars for the Fall. With the help of our Alumni Director Mary McKenna, our acting CLE Director Jerry Walton '80 and the co-chairs of the CLE Committee Jane S. Flaherty '88 and Scott Finerman '87 this series should be an enjoyable one.

All programs are held on Saturday mornings from 8:30 - 12:15, so there will be ample parking, plenty of fresh muffins, donuts, hot coffee and tea - free to all attendees. See you Saturday!

The Past Presidents Committee met on September 4, 1990 to plan coordination of pro bono legal activities and to discuss the feasibility and desirability of re-establishing the Legal Clinic.

The past presidents will work to assist the Social Committee with the planning and implementation of a fund raising event to benefit the Law Library.

By Tina Wecksler '85

The aim of the Professional Opportunities Committee is to improve the educational process for law students and alumni, which will in turn better their employment opportunities. Initially, the committee hopes to assist in the placement of students and alumni in three different categories: part-time law clerks, full-time attorneys and temporary assignments for attorneys. This committee will work closely with the Placement Office and the Student Bar Association to create jobs for Cleveland-Marshall students and alumni.

If you find yourself in need of a law student or an attorney to assist you in your practice on a limited or permanent basis, please use us as a resource. And if you, as an alumni, are looking for work on a temporary, part-time, or full-time basis, please call the placement office at 687-2540.

By Scott Spero '89

In order to address some important needs and concerns of our law students, the Alumni Association has created the Scholarship and Student Assistance Committee.

The main goal of the Committee is to create and manage a Scholarship Assistance Program which will benefit a large number of our law students, through the distribution of Law Alumni Funds for scholarships and awards.

The Committee is also available to assist students who are required to appear before the Academic Standards Committee, should such assistance be requested. A committee member's participation may be as simple as meeting with the student to discuss his or her academic situation or to actually represent the student by attending the oral hearing before the Academic Standards Committee.

Through these and other services, it is the goal of the Scholarship and Student Assistance Committee to make the law school experience more rewarding. If you are interested in getting involved in this committee, please contact me at 771-1255 or Mary McKenna at the Law Alumni Office at 687-2368.

Mary C. Groth '83 has been a member of the Board of Trustees since 1989. She has served on the Capital Campaign Fund and the Student Bar Association and presently co-chairs the Publications Committee as co-editor of Law Notes. Mary is the former Assistant Counsel of the Cleveland Bar Association, as well as its coordinator of Special Projects. She is a member of the Cleveland and Ohio State Bar Associations. Mary enjoys music, art, creative writing, history, reading and spending time with her husband and infant daughter.

Tina E. Wecksler '85 joined the Board of Trustees this year and chairs the Professional Opportunities Committee. She is a member of the Cleveland, Cuyahoga County, Ohio State and American Bar Associations. Her practice includes bankruptcy, debtor/creditor relations, business law, and domestic relations. She was Secretary of the Young Lawyers' Section of the Cuyahoga County Bar Association for 1988-89. Tina enjoys reading, golf, antiques, travel and baseball as a spectator sport.

Scott A. Spero '89 was active on the Board of Trustees in 1988 while attending Cleveland-Marshall and serving as President of the Student Bar Association. Scott is chair of the Scholarship and Student Assistance Committee which will oversee the distribution of Law Alumni funds donated for the benefit of Cleveland-Marshall students in the form of awards or scholarships. Scott's practice consists of general trial, appellate practice, negligence and family law. He enjoys cycling, running, tennis and reading.
MEMBERSHIP

by Linda Rich '77

The most specific goal of the Membership Committee for the current year is to double the Law Alumni Association's membership roster. With increased benefits for joining, such as rebates for the ever popular CMLAA-CLE programs, we hope that this idea will be able to become a reality.

As you can see, the Law Alumni Association has increased its profile in the last 18 months, with committees such as Professional Opportunities, Minority Concerns, Scholarship and Student Assistance, and Continuing Legal Education which benefits so many of the area's professionals. Needless to say, we would like to be able to continue this course. The Cleveland-Marshall Law Alumni Association is not a constituent of the Cleveland State University Alumni Association, nor does it receive funding from Cleveland State University. We depend solely on your dues and the proceeds from our activities for our survival.

When you are solicited for our new membership campaign, we ask that you take pride in being a graduate of the Cleveland-Marshall College of Law. We ask that you think of the school, the students and yourselves and say "yes — I'm ready to join!"

Linda M. Rich '77 has served as a Trustee of the CMLAA since 1985, is a past chair of the Social Committee and presently serves as co-chair of the Membership Committee. She is a member of the Ohio State Bar Association and is a frequent speaker to community groups on Probate and Elder Care, the focus of her private practice in Euclid. Linda is an avid traveler and enjoys scuba diving, gardening, and spending time with her husband and five year old son.

James E. Tavens '86 has served as a Trustee of the CMLAA since 1986, and in an ex officio capacity while President of the Student Bar Association at Cleveland-Marshall during the 1985-86 year. Jim has served on the Membership Committee since 1986 and is presently its co-chair. He is a member of the Ohio State and Cleveland Bar Associations, The American Trial Lawyer's Association, and is Chancellor of the Tau Epsilon Rho Law Society. His practice includes personal injury, medical malpractice, products liability and toxic tort litigation. Jim's hobbies include tennis, basketball, and skiing.

LIFE MEMBERS

Bernard Mosesson is a graduate of the class of 1950 of Cleveland-Marshall College of Law and received his B.A. degree from Miami University. He is a member of the Ohio, Cleveland and Cuyahoga County Bar Associations, as well as Tau Epsilon Rho Fraternity. Mr. Mosesson was decorated for valor in World War II in the European Theatre of Operations. He is a frequent lecturer on Immigration Law, an area in which he concentrated for over 20 years. Mr. Mosesson is currently the Prosecuting Attorney for the City of South Euclid, a position which he has held since 1975.

Robert M. Wilson, a graduate of the class of 1977, is both an attorney and a C.P.A. He was formerly a partner of Touche Ross in Dayton (now Deloitte & Touche), where he was the youngest CPA to make partner in a Big Eight firm. Mr. Wilson is currently CFO and Executive Vice President for Roberts, Inc., where he manages 13 retail stores and 300 people in Tampa, Atlanta and Dayton. Bob is Chairman of the Dayton Ballet Association, Chairman-Elect of the Downtown Dayton Association, Past President and Associate Board Member of the Dayton Performing Arts Fund and Chairman of the American Bar Association's Tax Accounting Problems Committee. He has also chaired the Ohio Society's Public Relations Executive Committee for the past two years. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the OSCPA, where he was Dayton Chapter President in 1985-86. Mr. Wilson resides in Dayton with his wife, Joli, and 3 year old son, William.

SATELLITE MEMBERSHIP

We have received offers of support from alums across the country, in addition to the participation from our local alumni. We are currently attempting to form a satellite membership group in Columbus. Any Columbus residents who are interested may contact William Dennis '80 at (614) 644-8761.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP GROWS

The Life Membership program represents a distinguished group of supporters of the Cleveland-Marshall Law Alumni Association. For a total payment of $1,000.00, which can be paid annually in installments of $250.00, your name will appear on an engraved plaque in the Alumni showcase in the atrium of the Law School. In addition, you will receive a handsome personalized desk clock, as well as a yearly subscription to Law Review.

If you are interested in becoming a Life Member, please return the dues statement, which is printed on page 4, with your payment. For further information, contact Mary McKenna at 687-2368.
The Social Committee is looking forward to hosting a number of events this fall and winter which should give all alumni a chance to relax, socialize and get to know one another a little better.

The traditional Cleveland-Marshall Bar Results party will be held the evening of October 26, 1990 in the Atrium of the Law School. We encourage all alumni to join us for cocktails and hors d'oeuvres to congratulate our new fellow attorneys into the world of law.

The Holiday season holds a special enthusiasm this year as the Social Committee is looking forward to a particularly exciting event. This year, please join us as our theatre outing takes us to the Cleveland Play House for their holiday production of Harvey, the enchanting story of kindly Elwood P. Dowd and his very special friend, an oversized rabbit. We will host a private cocktail party prior to the show at the Play House.

As we look forward to the spring of 1991, we are exploring a number of possibilities, and are always open to any suggestions from our alumni regarding possible future events.

Karen A. Davey '80 was appointed to the Board in 1987, became a member of the Social Committee and presently serves as co-chair. Karen is active in the Cleveland Bar Association, as former chair of the Young Lawyers Section, she now serves on its Executive Council, is a member of the Commission on Women in the Law and the Estate Planning, Probate, and Trust Law Section. Karen also a member of the Cuyahoga County, Ohio State, and American Bar Associations. In her free time, Karen likes to golf and swim.

Anna Vedouras Anastos '85 was appointed to the CMLAA Board of Trustees in 1990 after volunteering on several alumni committees in 1989. Anna presently serves as the co-chair of the Social Committee. She is an attorney with the Federal Government in the Navy Family Allowance Activity Division. She is active in the Junior League, chairs The Prompters committee and is on the Board of Trustees of the Cleveland Play House, is a member of the University of Michigan Alumni Association as well as the Cleveland and Ohio State Bar Associations. Anna enjoys the theater, art history, aerobics, travel, and reading.
CAREER EXPLORATION: ONE-TO-ONE

Dear Graduate:

As an attorney, you are a valuable resource to law students. Many students seek information about specific practice areas. Others wish to investigate alternative careers. Their questions are best answered by men and women with first-hand experience — Cleveland-Marshall graduates willing to share their time and expertise with others.

Career Exploration: One-To-One is a counseling program sponsored by Cleveland-Marshall’s Office Of Career Planning and modeled after a similar program developed by Peggy L. Fortner, Placement Director at South Texas College of Law. It provides a vehicle for informational conversations between students and graduates.

Upon completion of the enclosed form, your name and practice area(s)/alternative career will be included in a list of participating attorneys. This list will be maintained in the Office of Career Planning. Students will be matched with attorneys on the basis of mutual interest. Students will then call the attorney to arrange for a mutually convenient meeting time.

Names of participating attorneys will be kept on file in the Office Of Career Planning through the Summer of 1992. Student response will be monitored to insure that an attorney is not contacted more than twice during this period. Students will be encouraged to prepare a list of questions in advance in an attempt to limit visits to an hour or less.

Graduates outside the Cleveland area are encouraged to participate. Students can call at their own expense or visit the attorney during breaks or vacation periods.

Your willingness to share your thoughts and comments are the elements of the Program’s success. We look forward to your response and participation in Career Exploration: One-To-One.

Sincerely,

Steven R. Smith
Dean

GUIDELINES

As an attorney-advisor, you are not expected to assist students in finding employment. You will be asked, however, to talk about your practice or position and your perceptions about career opportunities in that area. Following are some guidelines which may be helpful:

1. Arrange to meet with the student within a reasonable time after you have been contacted.

2. Attempt to keep all appointments. As you know, students are balancing classes, study time and, for some, part- or full-time jobs, and rescheduling may be difficult. If unavoidable conflicts occur, please contact students sufficiently in advance to prevent an unnecessary trip.

3. Share with students your honest appraisal of their career goals and the opportunities and/or limitations of your practice area or field.

4. Suggest alternate methods of reaching the goal desired when appropriate. Attorneys may be aware of intermediate steps toward a long-range goal.

5. Do not assume that the student already knows about the day-to-day activities of your practice or alternative career. Be as frank as possible in discussing what you perceive to be the benefits or drawbacks of this occupation.

6. Don't be afraid to say "I don't know." Simply discussing the nature of your position can be invaluable in helping students determine their career preferences.

7. Never think you don't have much to add. After all, you are doing exactly what the student wants to do. No one can be expected to have all the answers. You can, however, provide information and opinions based on your personal experience.

8. Please do not hesitate to help in other ways. Suggestions based on your experiences about law school activities, courses, interviewing skills, etc. can be as valuable as job information.

and Mentees together early in the fall at an informal reception to allow them to meet one another and to get information, support and encouragement for the program. Mentors and Mentees will each be expected to share in the responsibility of making contact with the other, initially to schedule the first interview and periodically thereafter. The program is expected to provide for no less than four (4) mentoring encounters during the ensuing year.

During the initial mentoring session, the Mentor and Mentee will talk in general about themselves and become familiar with each other. This session can take place over lunch or at the Mentor’s office. The subsequent sessions will entail introducing the student to a practical and realistic viewpoint of the expectations and requirements of legal education and the legal profession. The parties can delve into discussions of various areas of law, good study habits, available resources, and any special needs or concerns that may surface.

For second year law students, the Mentoring Program will include the previously described activities and undertake discussions on securing employment in law firms, businesses or governmental agencies. The third year law students' program will include all of the above plus advice on preparation for the Bar Examination and the search for a permanent job in the legal profession.

At the conclusion of the year, all Mentors and Mentees will be requested to evaluate the program and make suggestions for improvement. A year-end reception will be used to bring all participants together again to share their experiences. It is anticipated that the Mentor/Mentee relationship will develop into a trusting and nurturing friendship, mutually beneficial and rewarding over an extended period of time.

A steering committee of minority alumni and students has been formed to plan and implement the Minority Mentor Program. The steering committee will serve as the initial Advisory Board of the program to oversee its operation and address any potential problems as they surface.

Melody Stewart ’88, the new Assistant Dean of Students Affairs, has been asked to serve on the Advisory Board to provide staff support and technical assistance.

For further information contact: Greg Clifford (216) 664-4958.

Gregory F. Clifford ’80 was appointed to the CMLAA Board of Trustees in 1989, and presently serves as the Co-Chair of the Minority Concerns Committee, where he has designed and implemented the Mentorship Program. He was president of the Black American Law Students Association while attending C-M, and is now a board member or member of innumerable community organizations and charities including (but certainly not limited to): Past President of the Cleveland Minority Bar Association, Chair of the Cuyahoga County Youth Services Advisory Board, Trustee of the Cuyahoga County Bar Association, and member of the Cleveland Bar Association. Greg presently serves as Referee for the Cleveland Municipal Court, a position he has held since 1988.

STREET LAW

Elisabeth Dreyfuss '78, Director of the College’s Street Law Program, conducted a two day institute on school based conflict resolution in July for 22 elementary, junior high and high school teachers at the University of Maine’s LRESources Program. The Street Law Student Leadership Project Director, Artemus Carter, assisted Dean Dreyfuss in her work with the Maine teachers and with similar workshops in Michigan, Maryland, North Carolina and Washington, D.C. Mr. Carter and Dean Dreyfuss were back from their thirteenth anniversary celebration of the staff on a part time basis as Staff and high school teachers at the Street Law atrium on August 20.

The Street Law celebration also honored the Shaw High School Mock Trial Team, which took first place in the Ohio Mock Trial Competition and second place in the National Mock Trial Competition in Portland, Oregon. Area wide mock trials are the capstone event in serving local school districts where Cleveland-Marshall law students work with classroom teachers to provide a course in practical law. The winning 1990 Shaw team was coached by Shaw High School Social Studies teacher, Lori Urogody Eiller, and Cleveland-Marshall alumna, Sonia Winner ’90. Ms. Winner will join the Street Law staff on a part time basis as Staff Assistant in the fall. There she will find herself heavily dependent (as is all the Street Law staff) on the services of Street Law’s capable administrative assistant, Louise Shuga.

Elisabeth Dreyfuss. A guiding principle of the Street Law Program which Professor Dreyfuss directs is an educational philosophy which involves students in the life of the community. Elisabeth Dreyfuss is not merely a proponent of that philosophy, she is an active practitioner whose community service amounts almost to a second career. Dean Dreyfuss has just completed a term as President of the Cleveland City Club. However, she will find no respite in the coming year: Elisabeth Dreyfuss has been elected to the Executive Board of Amnesty International USA (AIUSA) and appointed by Governor Richard Celeste to the Alcohol and Drug Addiction Services Board of Cuyahoga County.

ASSOCIATION ACTIVITIES

For the second year in a row, Assistant Dean for External Affairs Louise P. Dempsey (class of 1981) has been elected Chair of the Health Care Law Section of the Cleveland Bar Association. In July, Dean Dempsey and the law school sponsored a picnic luncheon on the front lawn of the College of Law to honor the section’s outgoing and incoming council. Professor Joel Finer led a discussion on the recent Supreme Court ruling in Cruzan v. Missouri Department of Health. Dean Dempsey’s interest in law and medicine inspired her to enroll in the Philosophy Department’s bioethics curriculum, leading this summer to a Certificate of Advanced Study in Bioethics. Professor Finer taught the final course in the series, Bioethical Ethics and the Law.

Professor Alan Weinstein, Director of the Law and Public Policy Program, a joint project of the law school and Maxine Goodman Levin College of Urban Affairs, became Chair of the Planning and Law Division of the American Planning Association at the organization’s annual meeting in May of this year. The Planning and Law Division has over 1,000 members and is the A.P.A.’s largest division.

PUBLICATIONS

The George Gund Foundation has awarded Professor David Barnhizer a $2,000 grant to support the publication of Environment Cleveland, a compendium of current research on the environmental health of the Great Lakes region. Professor Barnhizer wrote the preface and the opening chapter, and Assistant Dean for Community Education about Law Elisabeth Dreyfuss (class of 1978) contributed the closing chapter. The remainder of the collection is entirely the work of the 45 students in Professor Barnhizer’s fall 1989 Environmental Law class.

Professor James T. Flaherty published “Attorney Liens and the Code of Professional Responsibility” in the Journal of the Legal Profession. In addition to this full teaching load, Jim has spent the last few years designing and implementing the high-quality, low-cost CLE programs for Cleveland-Marshall and the Alumni Association.

GOVERNOR APPOINTEE

Adjunct faculty member Susan O. Scheutzow, an attorney in the health care law group of Cleveland - based Ulmer & Berne, has been appointed by Governor Richard F. Celeste to a five-year term as the public representative to the State Dental Board, the licensing and regulatory body of dentistry in Ohio.

MAYOR PROCLAMATION

Last spring Mayor Michael R. White proclaimed May 8, 1990, as Lizabeth A. Moody Day in Cleveland. That was the day that WomenSpace presented Professor Moody with the Josephine Irwin Award for her contributions locally and nationally “to the advancement of women.” Mayor White’s proclamation cited Professor Moody’s community service as a Commissioner of the Ohio Ethics Commission and as the first woman president of the Cleveland Bar Association. The mayor praised Professor Moody’s accomplishments as a teacher and scholar and her pivotal role in founding both the Women’s Law Fund and the Ohio Public Defender Commission. And finally, Mayor White noted Professor Moody’s “significant achievement” in the landmark sex discrimination in employment case, Cleveland Board of Education v. LaFleur, which Professor Moody argued successfully before the U.S. Supreme Court with co-counsel Professor Jane Picker.

BIRTHS

Professors Janice Toran and Steven Landsman are the parents of John Toran Landsman, born February 23, 1990. John is welcomed as well by his two brothers, Michael and Peter. And in June, Professor David and wife Julie Forte announced the birth of their second son, William John. “J.J.”, the Fortes’ first son, is two years old.

WEDDINGS

There are other significant celebrations among the faculty as well. When Sally Amanda Goodwin leaves the law school with her LLM degree, she will be leaving with a new name as well. On Sunday, August 19, Ms. Goodwin, who came from London to study at Cleveland-Marshall, became Sally Goodwin-Goshien, wife of Professor David Goshien at a ceremony at Professor Goshien’s home.

ABA ALUMNI RECEPTION

Cleveland-Marshall held an Alumni Reception at the 1990 Annual ABA meeting. Faculty in attendance were Dean Steven R. Smith and his wife Lera, Professor J. Patrick Browne, Assistant Dean Louise Dempsey ’81 and Professor Jim Flaherty and his wife Alice.

VISITING PROFESSORS

This fall the College welcomes a Visiting Professor to its campus from the People’s Republic of China. Lai Peng Cheng, Vice Dean of Fudan University in Shanghai, follows Fudan’s Dean, Dong Shizhong, who spent the year in Cleveland as the law school’s 1990 Visiting Professor. In January, Li-Li An, Fudan’s law librarian, will come to Cleveland-Marshall to work in the Joseph W. Bartunek III Law Library.

For the fifth year in a row, Professor Michael Davis presented a paper this summer in Aix-en-Provence, France as the American reporter to the annual constitutional law conference sponsored by the Groupe d’Etudes et de Recherches sur la Justice Constitutionnelle de la Faculté de Droit et de Science Politique d’Aix-Marseille. During 1990-91, Professor Davis will be a Visiting Professor at his alma mater, Hofstra University Law School.

Professor Marjorie Kornhauser (class of 1980) will be a Visiting Professor at Tulane University during spring semester, 1991.

During school year 1990-91, Professor Tayyab Mahmud will be in Pakistan to assist the government in writing a new constitution.

E. Donald Shapiro, Joseph Solomon Distinguished Professor at New York Law School, will occupy the college’s Baker & Hostetler chair during the fall semester. Professor Shapiro, who served as dean of New York Law School from 1973 until 1983, has published widely in the area of health law and has been a Visiting Professor at Harvard Medical School (1979-80) and Visiting Distinguished Professor at Bar-Ilan University in Israel since 1987. At St. Cross College, Oxford University, Professor Shapiro was Visiting Fellow in 1984-85 and has been Supernumerary Fellow since 1985. Professor Shapiro will teach the college’s course in Law and Medicine.

Professor Robert Willey will represent the College in the law school’s continuing exchange program with the Polytechnique of Central London School of Law. He succeeds James Wilson who was exchange professor during 1989-90. And the law school is pleased to have the Polytechnic’s Andrew Trew returning for another year as its exchange visitor.

NEW YEARS PARTY!

Steven and Lera Smith began the 1990-91 academic year with a New Year’s party for faculty and staff at their home. The Smiths served traditional holiday fare and illuminated their house with lights and decorations.

Several staff members are currently pursuing graduate degrees. Pamela Lombardi, Director of Career Planning, received her M.Ed. from Cleveland State University in June of this year. Director of Student Records Kay Benjamin is a doctoral candidate in Urban Education at CSU, support services’ Silke Pagendarm is studying for an M.Ed. in CSU’s Community Agency Counseling Program and Assistant Dean Louise Dempsey ’81 is working toward an M.A. in CSU’s Department of Philosophy and toward a black belt in karate.

Secretary to Associate Dean John Makdissi, Rosa DelVecchio, is a Ph.D. candidate in English at Case Western Reserve University and is presently writing a dissertation on Edgar Allan Poe. A published poet, Ms. DelVecchio has introduced kindred poet Lera Smith to poetry workshops in the Cleveland area. Ms. Smith is a candidate for the Ph.D. in English in the University of Iowa’s prestigious Medieval Studies Program. Ms. DelVecchio, who is also a medievalist, accompanied Ms. Smith to the annual International Congress on Medieval Studies at Western Michigan University in May. Ms. DelVecchio reports that the best presentation she heard this year was back in the dorm room one evening when Ms. Smith recited one of several Kentuckian style epic poems that she has written in Old English.

Then there are the library scholars, Christine Stouffer (class of 1988) and Schuyler Cook (class of 1987), who are seeking to add masters of library science (MLS) degrees to their law degrees. While in pursuit of her library degree, Ms. Quinn, Information Service Librarian, began her first year as a law student this fall.

Paula Hruby, Office Manager of the Fair Employment Practices Clinic, has left the Clinic to pursue a doctorate in psychology at Northern Illinois University in DeKalb. Tia Williams, who comes to the college from the Ohio Attorney General’s office, is the Clinic’s new Office Manager. Tia in not the only newcomer to the clinic area. Dean Kendrick joins Marlene Shettel as assistant in the Financial Aid Office.

...AND THOSE FURTHERING THEIR EDUCATIONS...

During 1990-91, Silke Pagendarm, a Visiting Professor to its campus from the University of Aix-Marseille, taught at Bar-Ilan University in Israel since 1987. At St. Cross College, Oxford University, Professor Shapiro was Visiting Fellow in 1984-85 and has been Supernumerary Fellow since 1985.
