Three Students Vie in Political Arena

The difference between being successful in life and being mediocr e is that little extra bit of eff ort put into all endeavors. If extra effort is put into life, success; if not, failure.

Robert L. Gray, president of the Student Bar, is on the ballot for Mayor of Highland Heights. Nancy C. Schuster, mother of four children, is seeking her second term as a precinct committeeman and; Anthony R. Stringer, assured himself of elec tion to a Cleveland City Council seat by capturing more than 50 per cent of the vote in the Ward 1 October primary.

Gray is a fourth year student; Stringer is in his third year; and Mrs. Schuster is in her second year.

Bob Gray is the top student in his class. Besides his duties as President of the Student Bar, he has served as a member of the Editorial Board of Law Review and is an officer in Delta Phi legal fraternity. In high school, he is currently precinct committeeman and is running for a city council seat in his first attempt for public office. Bob, his wife Nancy, and their two sons, Randy and Larry, live on Cherryhill Drive in Highland Heights. Bob was graduated from Youngstown University with a degree in Chemical Engineering. He is in real estate sales with Fraser Mortgage Corporation located in the Union Commerce Building. Nancy Schuster was graduated from the University of Wisconsin with a Bachelor of Science degree in political science. She has taught both elementary and secondary education in the public schools and is presently serving as vice president of the Greater Cleveland Division of the Ohio School Board Association. At Cleveland Marshall, she covers the Student Senate as a reporter for the Gavel.

Nancy is the mother of four children, Jerry, Robert, John, and Stuart 6, and Richard 4. Her husband, Bob, a captain in the Air Force Reserve, is associated with Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, Inc.

Tony Stringer, in his first try for public office, pulled off a stunning upset in the October primary and assured himself of a seat on Cleveland City Council in the November election.

Tony, a teacher at St. Ignatius High School, was graduated from Holy Cross University. He later attended Loyola University of Chicago on a fellowship grant from there and studied history. He earned his teaching certificate at John Carroll University.

Tony attended Holy Cross on a Navy ROTC Scholarship and later served three years as an officer in the Marine Corps with duty in the Far East.

An active member in his Ward Club, Tony is also vice chairman of the Young Citizens for Johnson during the 1964 Presidential Campaign. His wife Carol and their two sons, Paul and Daniel, live at 1314 West 116th Street.

The past efforts of these three students may very likely be the key to the success of their political futures. The next test is Nov. 2.

Highland Heights: Bob Gray has served as a child welfare case worker.

Currently, Nancy is an incubent member of the Parma Board of Education. She is up for re-election in November. Her community activities include organizer and first president of the Parma Chapter American Field Service and the Woman's Committee of the Parma Philharmonic Orchestra.

Nancy is a member of the Parma Area Fine Arts Council and a member of the Cleveland Council on World Affairs. She is presently studying to earn a degree in Education.

Help Wanted

Gavel Needs 'Management Traines'?

Hopeful, Dean Oleck noted that several of the articles from the most recent issue (Sept., 1965) have been requested for reprint in leading Digests and legal magazines. Requests have been received from "Trial Law Digest," "Trial and Tort Claims" and "Trial Lawyers Quarterly." Among those articles republished were Edward T. Haggins, "Doe Care by Physicians in Use of New Drugs," and Carl L. Stern, "Compensability of Non-Traumatic Ulcer."

Although contributions are made by individuals unconnected with the school, the requests for reprinting are not limited exclusively to these articles.

The importance of contributing to the Law Review cannot be stressed enough. In order to gain entrance to law firms, a basic requirement is membership on the Law Review Board. The time spent researching an article whether in writing or proofreading is time well spent.

Law Review Elects Editors-In-Chief

Associate Dean Howard I. Oleck, faculty moderator of the Law Review, announced the following concerning new matters. To begin with, editors in chief have been elected for the next four issues. They are: Ronald C. Hallock, (Jan., 1966), Robert B. Bowers (May, 1966), Robert L. Starks (Sept., 1966) and Morton L. Kephie (Dec., 1967). The Dean points out that if you are interested in working for the Law Review, you are afforded an opportunity to show yourself as someone who is prepared to take on some of these responsibilities, or any of these gentlemen.

In addition to selecting chief editors, Associate Dean Oleck, in Jan., 1966 there will be a symposium entitled "Damages for Injuries to the Ears and Eyes." The symposium will deal with "Revelation in Law Practice" and the Sept., 1966, review will have several articles dealing with "Medio-Legal" situations.

Proudly, Dean Oleck noted that the 1966 volume has been published by a staff that is made up mostly of third year students.

Cleveland Marshall Student Bar Announces its fall awards dance, "The Marshall A Go-Go."

The Cleveland Marshall Student Bar announces its fall awards dance, "The Marshall A Go-Go." The main ballroom of Cleveland Marshall Law School, sometimes known as the "Big Gym," or Classrooms A, B, and C, will be the site of the dance.

Dance chairman James Rogers expects a capacity turnout for the move no matter the weather. The dance, featuring "Jive" and "Rock and Roll," will be held Nov. 8, 1966, in the Student Center Ballroom. Doors open at 8:00 p.m. and the dance will be held until 12:30 a.m. Net proceeds from the dance will be used to finance the annual Student Bar Barbecue to be held early next year.

The crowning attraction of the evening, besides the faculty doing those wild dance moves, will be annual awards which give the students smiles on the faces of past dance winners. A new award will be presented to the pleasant experience of receiving instead of giving. The most outstanding couple at the dance, according to the Student Board of Directors, will be awarded the "French Serenade Award." The winners will be announced at the dance.

For the uninstructed, Moot Court is presently an elective, available to third year students. The basis for choosing participants is an invitation to the top thirty students, based on cume grade averages at the end of the second year of classes. Those invited may then choose either Moot Court or Legal Writing as an elective. Those in the third year class not invited to Moot Court are assigned to Legal Writing. At many other law schools, Moot Court is a requirement for all students. Those choosing sufficient ability are then invited to participate in Moot Appellate Court, with a chance to compete in the National Moot Court competition.

For More Moot Court

Mandatory Moot Court would enable those with a sincere interest to demonstrate that interest. It would enable the Moot Court advisor, Prof. Jack Smith, to pick from a wide selection of students, thus providing both a better experience for those who are selected and a greater pool of talent to choose from. The Cleveland-Marshall Moot Court Board is the only one in the country that such a system would be beneficial at Cleveland-Marshall.

Haber for University Heights Council

Running for University Heights Council is Kenneth Haber, a student of Cleveland-Marshall and a Heights resident all of his life. Haber, who is single, lives at 2450 Laurelhurst Dr. A graduate of Heights High School and Western Reserve University, he is a trust securities clerk at The Cleveland Trust Co. and is studying at Cleveland-Marshall Law School, where he in to receive his degree in 1968. As a member of the Heights Student Council and as a Heights Tris Speaker Little League, his name is well known in the Heights Tris Speaker Little League for the past two years. In a statement on his candidacy he said:

Improvement of the traffic control devices in the city is my first goal. Many dangerous intersections should be changed from stop signs to traffic signs. To relieve traffic congestion in front of Wiley School Elementary School, should be made a one-way street. Additional steps should be taken to rectify the traffic problems at Northwood and Belvoir Schools.

New Ohio Cases

Torts — Criminal Law
State v. McKeiver, Essex County, New Jersey. Reported in the Plain Dealer, October 2, Page 40. Felony murder with fright as the instrument of death. RC1909.09 — Legislative policy for discharge of damage committed by their children.

RC2979.04 — Service of minor in cases arising out of use of spray.

RC2977.683 — Vandalism.

RC3932.01 to 3932.14 — Statutory forms of Land Conveyance.

RC2979.05 — Statutory provisions for disability arising after accrual of the cause of action.

RC2979.31 to 3979.385 — Personal Jurisdiction of Common Pleas Courts over nonresidents.

Moot Court Digs in for Competition

Once again, we approach the time for Moot Court competition both locally and nationally. Those third year students presenting briefs and oral arguments will include: Charles Donahue, Boy Hollander, Helene Kamenar, Thomas Detlebach, Kenneth Korosec, Theodore Kowalski, Stanley Morgenstein, Frederick Mintz, Robert Mayer, John Hollander, Dennis Richter, Dennis Roth, Szymon Sackler, Robert Stark, James Sm徵, Dean Trip, John Hahneck, Jacob Fridline, William Fudale, John O'Toole, Joseph Saggio, William Fudale, and Richard Vogel.

There are two important points on this subject. First, these arguments are of the highest quality, and secondly, they are written by law students. The oral arguments are judged on appearance and argumentative skill, and the written arguments are judged on quality of research, delivery, logical reasoning; logical argument; evidence of research, and legal terminology; and organization. Based on their performance in this intra-collegiate activity, the best are then chosen to compete in the regional moot court competition.

This year the regional competition will be held in Detroit, Michigan, on November 10 and 11. Those students. The only major cities represented at Cleveland-Marshall are Rite Page, Bernard Kusek, John Miller, Harold Berman, and other Cleveland-Marians. The Detroit Bar Association will be the host, and the Cleveland Bar Association will be the sponsor. The Detroit Bar Association will be the host, and the Cleveland Bar Association will be the sponsor.
C-M Graduates on November Ballot

Law School Alumni Field
Bumper Candidate Crop

More than a dozen alumni of Cleveland-Marshall Law School figured prominently in the recent primary election held in the City of Cleveland.

Heading the list was Cleveland City Council President James V. Stanton ('61), who is said to have secured a major victory in his first test at the polls since he unseated Councillor Jack P. Russell as Council President two years ago.

No candidate in the Stanton "camp" lost in the primary. Some won with ease while, of those cast, thus avoiding a runoff in November, while others did no worse than finish themselves on the November ballot.

Other highly interesting political developments featured C-M alumni. In Ward 26, for example, long considered an unassailable stronghold of Jack P. Russell, former Council President, Thomas M. Shaughnessy ('60), in his second all-cut attack, managed to force Russell into a runoff in November. In the process, Shaughnessy also beat out another alumnus, Leodis Harris ('60).

Another race watched by veteran political observers was the one taking place in Ward 25, where incumbent Charles L. Gaines ('59), a member of Stanton's team, was being opposed by Reuben M. Payne ('57), who resigned his post as an Assistant County Prosecutor to make the race, Gaines withstanding the assault and will not have to face the November runoff.

Details is also the Councilman of the Alumni Association's Board of Trustees.

C-M alumni figuring in the November runoff include incumbent Councillors of the 12th Ward, Anthony J. Garofoli ('61), recently appointed to his council seat, and Floyd B. Oliver ('54), who is running against incumbent John C. Armstrong in the 16th Ward.

New Alumni Facilities

Mrs. Willy McManus is shown at left checking through the new filing system she developed recently for the Alumni Association. It will be helpful, not only in building the Association, but also in assisting our members directly with job information, etc.

At the right is the Alumni Secretary, Peter P. Raper, in the handsome new office provided the Alumni Association by the law school administration.

Placement News

C-M CRAD ('64), 29 yd. old, with BBA from Bowling Green, active in undergraduate school and in law school (Student Congress, etc.), with fine background in Industrial Relations with 20 coupled offers, seeks opening in a corporate staff.

C-M CRAD ('64), 29 year old, Chemical Engineer from Northwestern and former Patent and Copyrights, was granted a degree for the new law and is a registered Patent Attorney, looking for a patron association.

2nd YEAR LAW STUDENT, with BA degree from Baldwin-Wallace, seeks job as law clerk in time, or as insurance adjuster or title examiner.

NOTE: All alumni are subject to the Alumni Association's Board of Trustees.

An Invitation . . .

Dear Alumni -

Last year you were approached for a contribution to the Alumni Development Fund which is earmarked to pay for the extensive improvements made in retooling our new quarters on the first floor. We of the Law School Administration appreciate your efforts last year, and your continued support.

We hope you will accept our invitation to visit the school at your convenience so that we may show you our truly beautiful facilities.

fore a judge is set, and at this hearing, the accused is either discharged or bound over to the Grand Jury.

Ninety per cent of the prosecutors duties consist of answering complaints involving misdemeanors.
The complainant initially is interviewed and if arbitration fails and there is probable cause, an affidavit is issued. This gives the court jurisdiction and the case is set down for trial. Some of the proceedings specialize in trial work. These are the men who must research the law and argue the case before the judge. They have to be familiar with the case and especially with the evidence making certain that they are not defective. In addition, they have to know the elements of the various crimes. Most of the prosecutors rely on Baldwin's Ohio
Criminal Law authored by Judge
Lee Skol.

Mr. Cain feels that the novice attorney should “have a working knowledge of what goes on in the criminal branch of the court.” If only because a lucrative client may give into trouble, e.g., drunk-driving.
However, to one aspiring to be a criminal lawyer, he obtained from the public.

In concluding the interview the Chief Police Prosecutor advises, “Read as much case law as time allows in order to recognize the principles of law established in the case.”

Law Wives Schedule
Busy, Productive Year

The Law Wives open house at CM was a very enjoyable and successful evening. It was held in the new social area on the first floor. This was the first time the wives asked their husbands to join them in the opening event of the year. Many thanks to Dean Stapleton and to all the faculty members who attended. Co-chairman for the event were Kathy McGill and Carol Thomason.

Th Nov. 18 meeting will be held at the school on the first floor at 7:45 p.m. The guest speaker will be Ellis Ripper who will address the wives on the importance of making a will.

At this meeting you may pay your dues of $4.60 per year. It is hoped that all wives will give support and encouragement to the Club again this year. If any wife is not able to attend the meetings but wishes to be a member of the Club, simply send your dues to
Mrs. James Siddall, 1558 E. 248th
St., Euclid, Ohio 44127, or contact Annette Zaffiro, 261,0761, Membership-East, or Marge Saggio, 424-0656, Membership-West.

Since last year’s theatre party was so successful, the Club has arranged for another event at the Cleveland Playhouse, Euclid 77th.
Theatre on Sunday evening, Nov.
21. Curtain time is at 7:30 p.m. Admision will be $2.50 per ticket.
Camp in the Snow, a new play
by Milton Geiger, is on the bill.
It is about Edwin Booth and describes the theatre party is the big event that the fall season.
It is hoped that the growth of the Club will make a profit of $0.75 per ticket. This money will go towards the annual scholarship fund established by the Carneg­ Ie Foundation.

What is the White House镂
Low Program and what is its purpose?

The President, in announcing the program stated: “The purpose of the program is to give the Fellowes first-hand high-level experience with the workings of the Federal Government, and to increase their participation in national affairs.”

White House Fellows will be selected annually by the President from a group of outstanding young persons recommended to him by the Commission on White House Fellows.

Persons to be recommended by the Commission must be citizens of the United States; graduates of an accredited four-year college;
and at least 23 years old but not older than 36 by September of the current year.

Selections will be further limited to persons who have demonstrated unusual ability, high moral character, outstanding motivation, and a broad capacity for leadership, and who show exceptional promise of future development.

Additional information can be obtained by writing to the Commission on White House Fellows, The White House, Washington, D.C.,
