

Cleveland State University EngagedScholarship@CSU

All Articles

Newspaper Coverage

8-2-1954

54/08/02 Court Refuses To Free Dr. Sheppard From Jail

Cleveland Press

Follow this and additional works at: https://engagedscholarship.csuohio.edu/newspaper_coverage How does access to this work benefit you? Let us know!

Recommended Citation

Cleveland Press, "54/08/02 Court Refuses To Free Dr. Sheppard From Jail" (1954). All Articles. 353. https://engagedscholarship.csuohio.edu/newspaper_coverage/353

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Newspaper Coverage at EngagedScholarship@CSU. It has been accepted for inclusion in All Articles by an authorized administrator of EngagedScholarship@CSU. For more information, please contact library.es@csuohio.edu.

The Cleveland Press

Home

42 Pages — 7 Cents

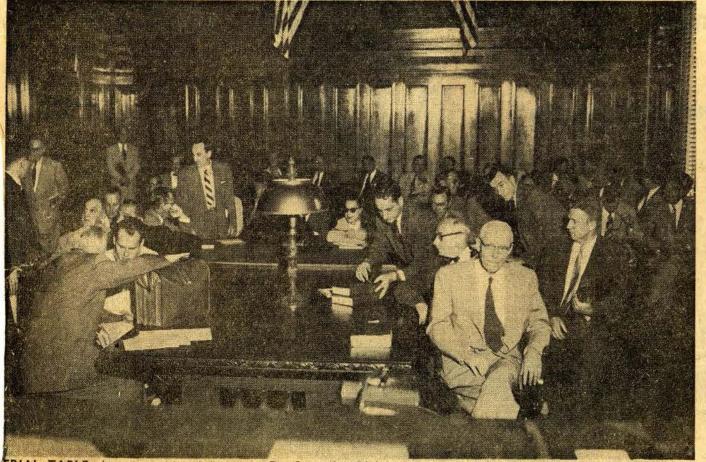

The Newspaper That Serves Its Readers

NO. 24030

CLEVELAND, MONDAY, AUGUST 2, 1954

Phone CHerry 1-1111

GOURIT REFUSES TO FREE DR. SHEPPARD FROM JAIL

TRIAL TABLE shows opposing lawyers as Dr. Samuel Sheppard failed in his bid for freedom today. On left side of table are William J. Corrigan, noted criminal defense lawyer, and Dr. Sheppard. To the right are John I.

Mahon, assistant county prosecutor, with Saul Danaceau and Thomas Parrino of the prosecutor's staff immediately behind. Richard S. Weygandt, Bay Village law director, is to the right.

Whispered conferences between William J. Corrigan and client, Dr. Sam Sheppard, were frequent at today's hearing before Judge Frank J. Merrick.

Whispered parley between Corrigan and Dr. Sam.

Corrigan & Client Police Plan to Question Houk Again

BULLETIN

Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard was moved from County Jail to Central Police Station after lunch today. His attorneys will not be permitted to interrupt his interrogation there.

Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard today lost his bid for immediate freedom. He was whisked back from Lakeside Courthouse to the County Jail for continued questioning about the July 4 murder of his pretty wife.

The 30-year-old osteopath, who had smiled occasionally during the brief hearing on a writ of habeas corpus, tautened when Common Pleas Judge Frank J. Merrick denied the application.

Huddle between lawyer and accused doctor continues.

Final advice is handed client by the criminal lawyer.

Joining conference is Attorney Arthur Petersilge.

For background on Cleveland's famed criminal lawyer, see Page 10. Detective Chief James McArthur disclosed that Bay Village Mayor J. Spencer Houk, who previously "failed" a lie detector test, would be "questioned further" about his testimony at the habeas corpus hearing.

These were today's quick-paced developments in the 29-day-old murder case:

HOUK, CALLED AS A WITNESS, declared under cross-examination by Assistant Prosecutor John J. Mahon that he had seen the battered body of Marilyn Sheppard on the murder bed. This was a departure from his previous testimony that he had waited downstairs while his wife, Esther, went up to the murder bedroom.

DR. SHEPPARD ADMITTED TO DETECTIVES that he had been an unfaithful husband, and had intimacies with Miss Susan Hayes, former Bay View Hospital Hospital laboratory technician. He had denied this under oath at the coroner's inquest.

DEFENSE LAWYER W. J. CORRIGAN resumed his County Jail "filibuster" to impede his client's grilling by homicide squad detectives.

CORRIGAN ARGUED that Dr. Sheppard had been "illegally arrested" for the murder of his wife on a warrant issued by Bay Village Council President Gershom M. M. Barber. Barber signed the warrant because Houk, a close personal friend of Dr. Sheppard, disqualified himself.

JUDGE MERRICK CITED A LAW which gives the council president full powers to act as a magistrate at any time.

"I'll see you in a few hours," the white-haired attorney called loudly to Dr. Sheppard as the osteopath, manacled to a deputy sheriff, was led out of the second-floor courtroom in which he lost his bid for freedom.

Although Judge Merrick had announced no "curious spectators" would be permitted, no attempt was made to oust the more than 100 persons—mostly attorneys and court attaches—who filled the room before the doctor was brought in from County Jail.

Dr. Sam's brother, Dr. Richard N., and his father, Dr. Richard A., watched the proceedings from backrow seats.

Before the hearing opened, the older brother pushed up to the counsel table and patted Dr. Sam on the back.

"I just want to let you know that we're in the back

Turn to Page 17, Column 1

Court Refuses to Release Dr. Sheppard From Jail

(Continued From Page One)

of the room and here with you, Sam," he said.

Corrigan admitted his cause was apparently lost when Merrick cited the section of law which gives a council president the authority to sign an arrest warrant.

I must make my the attorney insisted. Houk, cross-examined by Mahon over Corrigan's objections, said he was a close friend of the defendant, and told of being summoned by him to the murder home on the morning of July 4.

Q.: You saf Marilyn Sheppard?

A . Yes

Q .: How did you find her? A.: She was horribly beaten about the head.

Q.: Was she dead?

A.: I presume she was. McArthur said Houk's previous testimony indicated he had not gone upstairs to the murder room. The detective chief said Mrs. Sheppard's body was brought downstairs in a "body bag."

The hearing lasted about an hour.

Dr. Sheppard was brought in by Sheriff Joseph Sweeney and Deputies Carl Rossbach and Dave Yettra.

The murder suspect wore a white sports shirt, blue slacks, and his neck brace.

He claims his neck was injured in a series of struggles with the maniacal killer who murdered his wife-but that claim is disputed by the author-

"Now that the court decision has been handed down," Mc-Arthur said, "we can go on his attorneys over the questioning."

Police Chief Frank W. Story Thomas Parrino and Bay Vil- tradicting his oath. lage Law Director Richard S. Weygandt.

Immediately after the hearing, Story and McArthur conferred with Sweeney at the County Jail in an effort to bar torneys.

One of the few admissions straint on that subject." made by Dr. Sam during a week end of quizzing, frequent- to discuss his actions on the

T. Cullitan said today he was asking Miss Susan Hayes, 24, to "keep herself available" as a key witness against Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, charged with the murder of his wife. Cullitan said he would also talk to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Hayes, "to impress on them the importance maneuvers, was that he had lied at the inquest into Marilyn's murder when he denied more than a casual relationship with the 24-year-old Miss

"Yes, I was intimate with her," he admitted to detectives counsel, I will not discuss this who grilled him at intervals during the week end when they were able to outwit the lawvers who teamed up in a "filibuster" attempt to keep out the questioners.

This shattered Dr. Sheppard's earlier contention that he and Marilyn had a happy married life, punctuated only by the "normal differences" of the average husband and wife.

Mahon said "the people of Ohio" would resist "with all the force of the law" any effort to free Dr. Sheppard on bail.

The admission of his intimacies with Miss Hays was the first crack in Dr. Sheppard's staunch adherence to his original claim of complete with the merry-go-round with devotion to his murdered spouse.

It was made slowly and reluctantly, prodded out by the "Dr. Sheppard has refused to attended the court session, sit- fact that Miss Hayes, who reting with Assistant Prosecu- turned from Los Angeles, had tors Mahon, Saul Danaceau and made a sworn statement con-

Explains His Lies

He lied under oath, Dr. Sheppard said, because he was "being a gentleman".

But now that Miss Hayes has further interruption of the described their real relationgrilling by the defense at ship to the authorities, he said, "I am no longer under re-

Dr. Sheppard stolidly refused

County Prosecutor Frank of her availability.'

rupted by jail visits of his at- all the time." torneys.

"Corrigan seems to be running the County Jail," com-plained Homicide Capt. David Kerr. "But we'll keep on with our questioning as long as necessary."

Dr. Sam was interviewed for hours during the week end by teams of detectives working in relays, when they weren't cooling their heels in the corridor. waiting for attorneys to conclude a private conference.

The man charged with murdering his wife was perfectly willing to discuss his outstanding academic record as an osteopathic medical student in Los Angeles, and difficult operations he had performed, but parried questions about the slaying with: "On advice of with you."

Moved at Jail

He said he didn't remember vhether or not he was wearing shoes on the murder morning.

He seemed nervous and disturbed when asked to explain the lack of any physical evidence of anyone other than himself, his wife and their sleeping son, Sam (Chip) Jr. having been in the house of tragedy at the moment of murder. But he wouldn't discuss it 'on advice of my counsel."

During the brief moments when he wasn't being interrogated or chatting with his at torneys, Dr. Sheppard read newspapers and thumbed through two books which were brought to him.

Sheriff Joseph Sweeney said

detectives, whoe questioning of be interviewed by reporters, him was frequently inter- but wants to see his attorneys be no around the clock interro- advanced by Corrigan which

> The doctor was transferred from the private cell in which he was lodged on his arrival at the jail into a regular cellblock. He remained under constant surveillance.

Sleeps Well

Jailers said he "slept well" and consumed all the food placed before him.

Although his week-end interrogation was cut short because a deputy sheriff said "the man has to have some sleep," Sweeney said the police could "talk to him as much as they like" later.

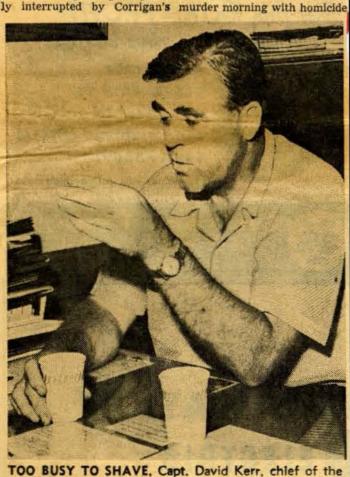

Chieff Story said there would gation.

ing Dr. Sheppard's legal gated. "They're red herrings," rights," he said. "Third degree he said. "Both possible susmethods are not permitted in pects-named could not have this country. A conviction committed the crime. which resulted from such methods might be reversed by the Supreme Court."

"Any justice of the peace can sign another warrant for his Mahon said, "and arrest." Myron Penty is just across the street."

Police are checking a report that, during the early period of their marriage in Los Angeles Marilyn was beaten so badly by Dr. Sam that she required medical treatment.

McArthur said two theories would "clear Dr. Sheppard" "We are meticulously observ- had been thoroughly investihomicide squad, catches a cup of cottee on the run while studying reports of his teams of detectives who have been grilling Dr. Sam in relays.