

The defense rests.

- - -

THEREUPON THE DEFENDANT RESTED

- - -

THE COURT: Ladies and gentlemen of the jury, you have just heard Counselor Bailey observe that the defendant rests.

The orderly procedure now provides that the State of Ohio may or may not offer rebuttal witnesses or testimony as it chooses. We are at the luncheon hour, at any rate, ladies and gentlemen, it is 12:15, and we are going to adjourn for lunch, recess for lunch.

While you are away on the luncheon recess you will bear in mind the instructions previously given you.

You will not discuss this case or what you have heard of it among yourselves. You will not permit anyone else to discuss it with you, nor shall you permit yourselves to overhear anything that relates to this case, by any means of communication.

Ladies and gentlemen of the jury, Judge John Peck from the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals is here in town, and he is going to speak at the Cleveland Bar Association luncheon at the Manger, which is now under way and has been under way since noon. I would like to hear Judge Peck. The luncheon meeting ordinarily adjourns at 1:30. I will be back here shortly after 1:30. So we will plan on commencing at 1:45 this afternoon, rather than at 1:30 as has been our custom.

So we will stand recessed for lunch until 1:45.

(Thereupon an adjournment was taken to 1:45 p.m., Monday, November 14, 1966, at which time the following proceedings were had:)

- - -